A Letter from Redeemer Church Council

Dear Redeemer Members and Friends,

Last week, we were moved by a photo posted on Facebook that has been painted on streets and sidewalks in Columbus during the COVID-19 pandemic. It says, 'You Can Do Hard Things.'

Just when we feel a little more scared, and a little more restless during our time at home, we are reminded whose we are, and that we can do hard things.

Redeemer Lutheran Church has answered the call to provide worship services, classroom opportunities, prayer, study and support using technology until it is safe for us to meet in person again. All of this came about because many in our church organized and pulled together in committed and creative ways.

Pastor Dave has reported that since the beginning of 2020, we have spent $2,300 from the Good Samaritan fund to help six families with rent and others with food and utility assistance. He has seen a slight uptick in the number of requests, and knows that when moratoriums are lifted on evictions, he may get even more. This month we will be resuming food distributions with community partners. The seeds of the summer's produce are going into the ground now, so that we can serve as many in our community as possible later in the year.

There are things you can do right now to continue all that we do:

- Know that we are heartened – and deeply grateful – that you have continued to support Redeemer financially even as we have not been able to worship in the same place together. Thank you for your faithfulness!
- As you are able, maintain your pledged giving to assure our smooth financial path during the time we are apart. Our current financial picture is stable, with steady giving in March and April, but we will see losses of rental and other income because of the pandemic.
- Several Church Council members have already pledged to donate their federal stimulus checks or other additional amounts to assure Redeemer's financial health during our time apart. If you are moved to do the same to

The Redeemer Community

Please Let Pastor Dave Know of Any Financial Challenges You May Be Facing in These Uncertain Times

We've heard the stories ... and some of us may be living them. All the jobs created since the financial crisis of 2008 have been erased in a matter of weeks. Some of us in the Redeemer community no doubt are facing financial challenges we never expected. But they're real.

If you find yourself wondering how you're going to meet your monthly bills, please contact me. We have a fund at the church specifically to support anyone inside or outside the church in that situation. There is no reason for you to hesitate in requesting support that you feel you need. I keep requests totally confidential. No one else will know we've been in conversation about this. We have received some very generous contributions recently, so know it's not like your request for support would keep others from being able to receive it as well.

Simply call my cell (206-725-3785) or email me (dshull@redeemerluth.com) and we'll move forward in a way that, hopefully, will bring you some peace of mind in these times when so many find themselves overwhelmed. Let us walk with you!

First Food Giveaway Set for Thursday

Jon Disbro writes, "As we approach our first scheduled monthly food giveaway in cooperation with LSS and the Mid-Ohio Food Cooperative [on Thursday, April 23 beginning at 2 p.m.], I'm pleased to let you know that the response of volunteers was enough that we are moving forward with the event at Redeemer. It is an important ministry and even more so in these trying times.

"We have had to change a lot of our procedures but a team has met a couple of times via Zoom to talk through things and we think we have a good plan for the event.

"I will be reaching out directly to those who volunteered with more details, and I'll report back next week via Reflections on how things went.

"Thanks for your support!"

Race Conversations Book Study Begins Wednesday

Sheryl Owens and Dave Shull would like to invite you to join the first discussion of White Fragility by Robin DiAngelo, the next focus for the race conversations group at Redeemer. The discussion of the book's introduction and first three chapters will be held Wednesday, April 22 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. via Zoom.

If you'd like to join us, the meeting ID is 912 8028 4151, and the password is 028737. If you need to join by phone, the number is 646-876-9923. Then you'll be asked to enter the meeting ID and password.

If you have questions about getting onto Zoom, etc., call Pastor Dave Shull at 206-725-3785).

Even if you haven't had a chance to read any of the book, please join us for the conversation! Sheryl and Dave look forward to seeing and being with you on Wednesday. Feel free to invite others you think would enjoy talking about why racism is such a challenge to discuss in an open and caring way. The discussions will continue on Wednesdays, April 29 and May 6.

Adult Sunday School Class to Conclude Study of Last Days of Jesus

This coming Sunday, April 26 at 10 a.m., the Adult Sunday School Class will complete its study of the Gospel of Mark's exploration of the last week of Jesus' life and what it means. Two weeks after Easter, we'll look closely at the way Mark tells the story of the empty tomb. Mark's is the only Gospel where the risen Christ doesn't appear. The Gospel ends with the women fleeing from the tomb in fear. What might Mark be telling us?

If you'd like to join the Zoom conversation, the meeting ID is 974 9447 7321 and the password is 009641. If you want to join by phone, call 646-876-9923; you'll be prompted to enter the meeting ID and password.

Sister Act Sets Time to Reconnect

Sister Act, which is on hold during the “stay-at-home” orders of Gov. Mike DeWine, will reconnect with each other via a Zoom call on Tuesday, April 21 at 6:30 p.m. To get the details about how to join, call either Kay Ernsthausen at 614-288-8506 or Michele Disbro at 614-451-3642.

In addition, Sue Yehling and Michele have prepared a 2½ minute video on how to care for the environment in response to the 50th Anniversary of Earth Day. It can be found at <https://youtu.be/W2r5doamgh0> . (See a separate story in this Reflections for more information on Earth Day 2020.)

Check for Redeemer’s Wednesday/Friday Emails

We’ve heard from some on our email list that they have not received the additional Wednesday and Friday communications from Redeemer. Please make sure you check “Spam” and/or “Promotions” folders, especially in Gmail. The Mailchimp program Redeemer uses to send messages is sometimes directed to other folders instead of the inbox.

If you have difficulties receiving messages, please be in touch with us by emailing info@redeemerluth.com so that we can help problem solve. We want to be in touch with you.

Sunday Worship Available on YouTube

The April 19 Sunday worship service is available at <https://tinyurl.com/r6mk2xh>. For the Sunday Worship Bulletin, go to the Redeemer website at www.RedeemerLuth.com >News, Sermons, Devotions.

We are holding one another in prayer and in spirit as we work through this time. Go in peace, serve the Lord, wash your hands!

RLC Creates ‘Caring Calls Committee’

During these interesting times of isolation, there has been lots of talk about how to support and care for each other at Redeemer. One way the Member Support Team decided to do this to make sure Redeemer is intentional about reaching out to all members is to create a “Caring Calls Committee” (CCC).

Each volunteer in this group will be given a list of members to call once a week. We hope members experience various people reaching out to them however, with this “Caring Calls Committee” we will be assured that ALL members are contacted, Michele Disbro explained. “This can be extremely important for people who live alone (especially if we find out they have become ill - so someone is checking in on them & what they might need).”

Folks can still volunteer or can let us know if you haven’t been contacted, by contacting Michele at 614-451-3642 or via email at MDDisbor@gmail.com .

Imagine a World without Cancer

Redeemer Member Chad Eberle writes: “As many of you know, running the New York City Marathon has long been a dream of mine. Despite entering the lottery for a ninth year, I did not get selected in the random drawing. So I have chosen to run this year for charity, and I am proud and pleased to be running as a member of Fred’s Team, formed to honor Fred Lebow, a co-founder of the NYC marathon and a man who envisioned a world without cancer. I have chosen to specifically raise funds for Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center’s Leukemia Fund.

“This is a personal issue for me. What many of you may not know is that my husband, John Caron, has been diagnosed with a rare form of leukemia known as CLL (Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia). John is currently stable and asymptomatic.

“I look forward to running 26.2 miles through the five boroughs of the best city in the world this autumn, and I am humbly asking for your support. Please consider a generous donation as we have committed to raising at least $3,500 toward leukemia cancer research. Your donations are tax deductible, and 100 percent of your donation will go toward the vital work being done at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. More FDA-approved drugs for cancer treatments have been developed by MSK than any other academic institution in the world.

“To donate, please go to www.fredsteam.org, click on Donate, and search for Chad Eberle. My donation page will come up. “Thank you for your support! It means a great deal to us.”

Chad reported over the weekend that he is within $250 of his goal!

Tuesday Bible Study Dives into the Apostle Paul

This Tuesday, April 21, the Bible study group here at Redeemer continues its in-depth exploration of Paul’s First Letter to the Church in Corinth. In this letter, Paul addresses how communities are formed, what the role of love is in our common life, what it means to be in a body as opposed to just spiritual beings, who Jesus is, what the cross of Jesus is and does, and how to imagine the brand new world he says people are living in here and now.

In other words, a letter Paul wrote around the year 55 talks about issues that Redeemer has to face today if we are to be an active, vital body of Christ today.

If you have some free time on Tuesday afternoons from 1-2:30 p.m., join our community of exploration, honesty, laughter, and prayer. The Bible study is held via Zoom. If you'd like to join us, here's the information you'll need to connect: Meeting ID: 932 4942 7824; Password: 021534. To join by phone, call 646-876-9923. You'll be prompted to enter the meeting ID and password. We'd be blessed by you being part of the conversation!

April 2020 Council Update

All council members met via Zoom on Sunday, April 19. We have begun each of our meetings with a discussion of “Big Picture” issues important to our church community. Not surprisingly, we addressed the implications of the pandemic for Redeemer. Below are council updates and actions:

- Finances for March are encouraging with $25,369 in giving and $23,667 in expenses, leaving a $1,700 surplus for the month. So far, April giving is keeping pace with 2019 giving which met expenses.
- While we know that many are grateful for online worship and class offerings, the time apart is difficult for us as a community. We made plans to work with more intention to reach those in our church who may not participate as much in online events. We hope that everyone will participate at whatever level they feel they are able and in what is meaningful for them. Council members were emphatic that we are open to new ideas for reaching and including members. We had 225 views of our Easter service online.
- We will continue to evaluate how we will resume our in-person programs and worship as restrictions are lifted, and we have a path to some normal operations.
- We approved a request from our Suzuki partners to decrease their rent amount by one third ($500) for the next quarter, with possible continuation depending on their return to normal operations. Currently Suzuki has no in-person or group classes.
- We approved a special gift of $2,500 from the Good Samaritan Fund to Lutheran Social Services as they aid the homeless and hungry.

With thanks,
Margie Frazier, Council President

ELCA Bishop Elizabeth Eaton's Earth Day Message

Sin and captivity, manifest in threats to the environment, are not the last word. God addresses our predicament with gifts of 'forgiveness of sins, life, and salvation' (Luther, Small Catechism). By the cross and resurrection of Jesus Christ, God frees us from our sin and captivity, and empowers us to be loving servants to creation.

—ELCA social statement Caring for Creation: Vision, Hope, and Justice, p. 5

The following was written by ELCA Bishop Elizabeth Eaton for the 50th anniversary of Earth Day on Wednesday, April 22:

“As I work from home at our dining room table, I look out the front window and see the wildlife at my husband's feeders. God created such beautiful creatures. As Christians we are guided by the promise expressed in our social statement that we are empowered ‘to be loving servants to creation.’ It is our duty to care for God's earth.

“Established in 1970, Earth Day launched the modern environmental movement, spurring development of landmark policies for a creation in crisis and defining a path toward a more sustainable planet. In this 50th anniversary year, under the theme ‘Climate Action,’ the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America is joining the Earth Day Network as a featured faith partner. This partnership expresses our deep love for God's creation and a Lutheran understanding of our profound responsibility for it. The social statement describes our commitment this way:

“Humans, in service to God, have special roles on behalf of the whole of creation. Made in the image of God, we are called to care for the earth as God cares for the earth. God's command to have dominion and subdue the earth is not a license to dominate and exploit. ... [It] should reflect God's way of ruling as a shepherd king who takes the form of a servant (Philippians 2:7), wearing a crown of thorns (Caring for Creation, pp. 2-3).

“We accept that caring for and protecting creation is central to our holy calling, yet we acknowledge our shortcomings in this regard. Our action and inaction are exposed by the despoiling and degrading of the environment. Affected by human activity, our changing climate has brought more severe weather patterns and ensuing destruction. Our waters, land and air are being polluted, and we are alarmed by the devastation. Ecological systems are strained to the point where some species cannot adapt, and face extinction.

“Globally, we are dealing with two interconnected crises, the COVID-19 pandemic and ongoing climate change. Both demonstrate the profound consequences of our disrupted, broken relationship with the natural world. According to scientists, species disruption caused by global warming has combined with human encroachment on the natural world to drive wildlife into greater and deadlier contact with people. The COVID-19 outbreak is an urgent warning that our behavior opens the door to transmission of new diseases, with devastating consequences.

“Our distorted relationship with the earth is borne most heavily by the most vulnerable and marginalized among us, who are ill-equipped to withstand the impact of climate change or implement remedies. COVID-19 and the climate crisis heighten existing racial inequity, economic disparity and social injustices. Our call to care for creation is also a call to right these wrongs.

“As Earth Day partners and stewards of creation, we have many ways to lovingly serve the earth:

- “Explore and use ELCA Care for Creation resources, including video, study and action guides with information about the Creation Care Ambassadors initiative.
- “Read the Lutherans Restoring Creation story "5 Ways to Celebrate Earth Day as Church Together but Apart.”
- “Learn about the Creation Care Ambassadors program that equips Lutherans to be leaders in settings across the church and in our communities.
- “Accept the ELCA Young Adults No Plastics for Lent challenge this Easter season.
- “Participate in a local clean-up (with appropriate distancing) if permitted by local authorities, or participate in the Earth Challenge 2020 citizen scientist initiative, focused on plastic pollution and clean air.
- “On Tuesday, April 21, take part in the Parliament of World Religions' 50th Earth Day Observance With Global Religious and Indigenous Leaders.
- “Join with the ELCA's ecumenical partner Creation Justice Ministries in advocacy, education and prayer.”
- Visit the official Earth Day website at <https://www.earthday.org/earth-day-2020/> .

“Looking past this anniversary, we gladly accept the monumental assignment of refocusing, renewing and raising our efforts as we embrace our role as stewards of creation and look with hope and promise toward years to come.

A Prayer from Lutheran Disaster Response:

“Prepare us, Lord, for what lies ahead. Give us the strength and dedication that we will need in order to serve others unselfishly. Give us the energy we will need to follow through with the task. Give us strength to face our assignment, and put before us people who will support us. Open our ears and eyes and heart, so that we can sustain others and help creation to recover from this crisis. Bless those who are suffering and give them hope, in Jesus' name. Amen.”

ELCA Seeks Feedback on Statement on Civic Engagement

The idea of government was already very much in focus because this was an election year, and the pandemic has focused it more so. But what does the ELCA teach about the nature and function of government in relation to God's purposes? What is a faithful Lutheran response regarding citizenship and civic engagement?

To help guide our church on these questions, the 2019 Churchwide Assembly asked for the preparation of a social message. At this time, the message is in draft form. Through Wednesday, May 27, folks are invited to provide feedback on how to strengthen the message.

Click here to read "A Draft Social Message on Government and Civic Engagement: Discipleship in a Democracy." To offer feedback, please fill out this survey. Comments can also be emailed to draftsocialmessage@elca.org. To learn more about what social messages are, click www.elca.org/socialmessages.

In light of the feedback, the message will be revised and presented to the ELCA Church Council for a vote in June. Upon its adoption, the message and a study guide will be released over the summer, along with a Spanish translation.

To learn more about this social message and the process of its creation, please visit its webpage, which features "Frequently Asked Questions."

Thank you for taking the time to participate in this project—it's through the wisdom of the full church that a strong message will be created.

The Community Beyond

A Message from Mayor Ginther to the Columbus Faith Community

"Thank you to the many people who have stepped forward to give blood during this challenging time.

"The American Red Cross reports that they are meeting hospital patient needs with the current pace of donations but it is critically important to ensure that these blood donations continue.

"The Red Cross needs this consistent steady flow of blood donations throughout the duration of the pandemic to meet patient needs. I encourage you to schedule an appointment to give in the weeks and months ahead.

"Once the pandemic passes, we expect hospitals to resume elective surgeries this summer, so the demand for blood will increase and more blood drives will be needed.

"Stay safe and thank you for helping out your neighbors by giving blood."

To give blood, contact the Red Cross at www.RedCross.org or by calling 1-800-RED-CROSS.

Getting Ready for Sunday

Lessons

Sunday Readings: Acts 2.14a, 38-42, Psalm 116.1-4, 12-19, and Luke 24.13-35

Prayer for the Times

The following prayer was written by Nadia Bolz-Weber:

For the layers of comfort and convenience that surrounded our lives and that we never considered a blessing but always just took for granted, forgive us.

For we who must grieve in isolation and not in community, comfort us.

For we who care for the sick, protect us.

For the ability to turn off the fear-mongering and unhelpful commentary and worst-case scenario click bait, strengthen us.

For the times when we are all out of creative ideas for how to get through this with cooped up kids, inspire us.

For we who are now cutting our own bangs at home, guide us.
For the grace to allow ourselves and others to just be less productive, shower us.
For the generosity needed from those of us who have more resources, empower us.
From our own selfish inclinations, deliver us.
For just being your children, none of whom have done a global pandemic before, love us.
For the days ahead, accompany us.
God unbound by time, help us to know that you are already present in the future we are fearing.

Amen.

Prayer of the Day

O God, your Son makes himself known to all his disciples in the breaking of bread. Open the eyes of our faith, that we may see him in his redeeming work, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.. Amen.
