When Wishes Need to Surrender to Realities

I know some of you are fans of the Louise Penny series of novels about Chief Inspector Armand Gamache of Quebec. In most of the novels (just in case we may have forgotten!), Armand reminds us that to be a good leader, and, really to be a good human being, you have to be able to say four things. Over and over again, you have to be able to say:

- ❖ - I was wrong.
- ❖ - I need help.
- ❖ - I'm sorry.
- ❖ - I don't know.

Over the centuries, wise people have said we can avoid a great amount of suffering if we face the realities in front of us instead of ignoring them because they keep us from doing what we really wish we could do. I quote from the gospel of Gamache this week because the bold wishes I expressed in last week's Reflections about a live-streamed Good Friday evening service and drive-through doughnuts and blessings grew out of some of our deeply-held wishes – instead of being rooted in the realities that we face as people who have been told to stay at home so the spread of this pandemic can be reduced.

So there will not be a livestreamed Good Friday evening service with our friends at Christ United Methodist. Instead, we will ask the four Christ members and the three Redeemer members who have a word to share about seven places connected to Jesus' walk to the cross to video themselves, and have those individual reflections woven together into a service. We hope this can be ready for Friday night. We still need one more Redeemer person to offer a 3-5 minute reflection on the second station of the cross: "Jesus carries His cross," based on John 19:17. Please let me know if you can do this.

However, Pastor Curnell Graham from Christ United Methodist Church and I will lead a 20-minute live-stream prayer service at noon on Good Friday that will be broadcast over Christ UMC's Facebook page. So just go to that, and you can find the service.

The Executive Team of this congregation decided on Friday that we cannot be faithful to public health by telling those creating our weekly online worship that they have to leave home and gather in the sanctuary, even if they stay apart from each other. And we decided we cannot ask you all to drive to the church on Easter afternoon for doughnuts and a blessing. These ways of doing things send exactly the wrong messages to you about the need to stay at home. Again, we just wanted to keep bringing you worship in the simplest way possible. And we just wanted to make Easter special. We wanted to give you a chance to see each other, even through a car window; we wanted to do something playful with the doughnuts – and to hear what you want prayer around these days, and pray that prayer with you. All because we wished to offer a tangible sign of our love for you and for each other.

The Redeemer Community

Regarding LSS/Food Collective Food Giveaways

The following letter was received from Jon Disbro, who coordinates Redeemer's efforts with the monthly Lutheran Social Services (LSS) and Mid-Ohio Food Collective (MOFC) giveaways:

"We are fast approaching the season of our LSS/MOFC Food Giveaway events. We are scheduled for the fourth Thursday of every month from April to October so that means our first event is scheduled in less than three weeks on April 23! As you can imagine, the demand for food assistance is surging and may only increase over the next few months so this ministry effort we share with LSS and the Mid-Ohio Food Collective is even more important.

"LSS has issued some new guidelines in an attempt to keep everyone, customers and volunteers, safe during the events and is basically asking us to convert to a drive-thru process where customers stay in their cars and we follow all of the physical distancing, hand washing, glove and face mask guidelines.

"With these important safety issues in mind, we realize that not everyone who wants to help will be able to help and we certainly want you to be safe and comfortable.

"In an effort to gauge our volunteer staffing for these events, and especially the one on April 23, we'd like for those who are willing to help to please email or call the church office to let us know.

"Some of the volunteer tasks will be much like in past years with some new twists to accommodate the new guidelines within our process.

"If you have questions or concerns, please contact Jon Disbro directly at 614-451-3642 (home) or 614-832-2639 (cell) or email jon.disbro@nationwidechildrens.org. I know our congregational efforts to combat food insecurity in our communities is very meaningful for many of us and our outreach means so much to those we serve."

Check for Redeemer's Wednesday/Friday Emails

We've heard from some on our email list that they have not received the additional Wednesday and Friday communications from Redeemer. Please make sure you check "Spam" and/or "Promotions" folders, especially in Gmail. The Mailchimp program Redeemer uses to send messages is sometimes directed to other folders instead of the inbox.

If you have difficulties receiving messages, please be in touch with us by emailing info@redeemerluth.com so that we can help problem solve. We want to be in touch with you.

Sunday Worship Available on YouTube

The April 5 Palm Sunday worship service is available at <https://tinyurl.com/r6mk2xh>. For the Sunday Worship Bulletin, go to the Redeemer website at www.RedeemerLuth.com >News, Sermons, Devotions.

We are learning! And we are holding one another in prayer and in spirit as we work through this time. Go in peace, serve the Lord, wash your hands!

RLC Creates 'Caring Calls Committee'

During these interesting times of isolation, there has been lots of talk about how to support and care for each other at Redeemer. One way the Member Support Team decided to do this to make sure Redeemer is intentional about reaching out to all members is to create a "Caring Calls Committee" (CCC).

Each volunteer in this group will be given a list of members to call once a week. We hope members experience various people reaching out to them however, with this "Caring Calls Committee" we will be assured that ALL members are contacted, Michele Disbro explained. "This can be extremely important for people who live alone (especially if we find out they have become ill - so someone is checking in on them & what they might need)."

Folks can still volunteer or can let us know if you haven't been contacted, by contacting Michele at 614-451-3642 or via email at MDDisbor@gmail.com.

Sharing What Helps You Go Through Wilderness Times

We are in the middle of the season of Lent. We walk with Jesus through times of confusion, disappointment, misunderstanding, fear, betrayal, anger, loss, loneliness, longing, and a profound sense that events are happening beyond anyone's control.

And we feel all of these feelings and more as the Covid-19 pandemic spreads, and leads to the loss of more and more ways to come together face-to-face, the loss of more and more ways to touch and be touched, to enjoy this profound and necessary gift of community.

During this time of physical separation, we want to bless each other with the gifts of "safe" community in as many ways as we can. One way to do that is for you to share any "wisdom" you have found for hard times. Wisdom for "wilderness" times when the horizon seems to lack so many of the familiar bearings and markers that have guided our path and assured us we have a sense of where we're going.

So please send phrases, poems, song lyrics, stories, scripture ... anything that helps you in these days that you'd like to share with your church community. Send them to me at dshull@redeemerluth.com. We'll share them in email over the coming weeks. You are a blessing ... we bless each other.

Race Conversations Book Study

Sheryl Owens and Dave Shull would like to invite you to read White Fragility by Robin DiAngelo, which is the next focus for the race conversations group at Redeemer. We'd originally planned to discuss this Wednesday evenings, April 22 and 29 and May 6, from 7-8:30 p.m. We may still do this via Zoom, which is the way we're doing our Sunday adult education and Tuesday Bible study classes right now.

Keep your eyes open to Reflections for when we'll "meet." In the meantime, please be safe and keep healthy – and keep calling each other!

Imagine a World without Cancer

Redeemer Member Chad Eberle writes: "As many of you know, running the New York City Marathon has long been a dream of mine. Despite entering the lottery for a ninth year, I did not get selected in the random drawing. So I have chosen to run this year for charity, and I am proud and pleased to be running as a member of Fred's Team, formed to honor Fred Lebow, a co-founder of the NYC marathon and a man who envisioned a world without cancer. I have chosen to specifically raise funds for Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center's Leukemia Fund.

"This is a personal issue for me. What many of you may not know is that my husband, John Caron, has been diagnosed with a rare form of leukemia known as CLL (Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia). John is currently stable and asymptomatic.

"I look forward to running 26.2 miles through the five boroughs of the best city in the world this autumn, and I am humbly asking for your support. Please consider a generous donation as we have committed to raising at least $3,500 toward leukemia cancer research. Your donations are tax deductible, and 100 percent of your donation will go toward the vital work being done at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. More FDA-approved drugs for cancer treatments have been developed by MSK than any other academic institution in the world.

"To donate, please go to www.fredsteam.org, click on Donate, and search for Chad Eberle. My donation page will come up. "Thank you for your support! It means a great deal to us."

Adult Sunday School Class Explores Last Days of Jesus

On Sunday, April 12, the 10:30 a.m. Sunday adult education hour continues its class based on the book The Last Week by Marcus Borg and John Dominic Crossan. Each Sunday the group will immerse themselves into one of the last days in the last week Jesus spent as a human on this earth. Up on April 12: Friday of Holy Week. The class is held via Zoom. If not currently participating, contact Pastor Dave at dshull@RedeemerLuth.com or on his cell at 206-725-3785 to get on the notification list.

Tuesday Bible Study Dives into the Apostle Paul

This Tuesday, April 7, the Bible study group here at Redeemer continues its in-depth exploration of Paul's First Letter to the Church in Corinth. In this letter, Paul addresses how communities are formed, what the role of love is in our common life, what it means to be in a body as opposed to just spiritual beings, who Jesus is, what the cross of Jesus is and does, and how to imagine the brand new world he says people are living in here and now.

In other words, a letter Paul wrote around the year 55 talks about issues that Redeemer has to face today if we are to be an active, vital body of Christ today.

If you have some free time on Tuesday afternoons from 1-2:30 p.m., join our community of exploration, honesty, laughter, and prayer. The Bible study is held via Zoom. If not currently participating, contact Pastor Dave at dshull@RedeemerLuth.com or on his cell at 206-725-3785 to get on the notification list.

An Update from Jill Disbro

“Greetings from Berkeley! I hope everyone is doing ok during this time of physically distancing from one another. Things out here at Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary have been quite different, but we are all rising up to the challenge as we come up with new creative ways to connect with one another and worship together. My seminary has moved classes online for the rest of the semester and my commencement ceremony is cancelled. But I'm grateful for some of the nice weather we've had that has allowed us all to still walk and be outside (six feet apart of course) during our shelter-in-place order. I hope Columbus weather lets you do the same.

“Before the shelter-in-place order started here on March 17 in my county, I was busy with my classes, my participation in our student association executive committee, working as a graduate assistant to our Lutheran Theology professor, and working at my Ministry in Context site. This semester I was an MIC student with a faith-based nonprofit organization called San Francisco Night Ministry, which provides spiritual care and referral services to people living on the streets. SF Night Ministry has a variety of multi-faith services and has night ministers who walk the streets every night to provide services to the most vulnerable in the city, and have been doing so for over 50 years. My role had me helping lead an open air bilingual Eucharist service at a downtown BART. It was a really great experience helping lead the service in Spanish and worshipping alongside people I don't normally get to be in fellowship with.

“I also wanted to share some good news I found out this week. After I finish classes at the end of May, I will begin internship around August at Our Redeemer Church in Garden Grove, CA, in the LA area. I’m really looking forward to working with and learning from this other Redeemer congregation :)

“Thanks as always for your support and prayers. You are all in my heart during this challenging time. Blessings! – Jill Disbro”

Holy Week Plans cont'd from p. 1

All faithful wishes. But wishes that cannot be reconciled with an order to stay at home.

So, for not having allowed the realities we face to temper how I wish to see all of you and help you feel loved and held and accompanied in these days, I say “I am sorry” and “I was wrong.” We WILL still have the Zoom gathering on Maundy Thursday. Any of you who wish to join us as we imagine being at the last supper the earthly Jesus has with his disciples, simply do the following:

- 1) Download Zoom onto your computer – ideally so you can see everyone else.
- 2) Just before 7 p.m. on Thursday, April 9, click the Zoom icon on your computer twice and click the icon saying you want to join a meeting.
- 3) You’ll be asked for your name, a meeting ID, and a password (the password is now required to avoid some of the Zoom security problems you may have heard about recently). The meeting ID is 190 416 153; the password is 001276.
- 4) You’ll be asked if you want to enter with video – if you want us to be able to see you, click that.

That should be all you need to join us for this time together.

If your computer doesn’t have both video and audio, you can phone in to the meeting. We won’t be able to see you, but you can still hear and you can speak. That phone number is 646-876-9923. After calling in, you’ll still need to enter the Meeting ID and password above. Call my cell (206-725-3785) if you have any questions or problems connecting with this meeting.

As we move forward seeking to offer ways to feel that connection and joy that Redeemer is rooted in, I need help in being creative and playful while also not trying to do an end-run around reality! Because I don’t know all the ways we might imagine being church in the days and weeks ahead.

If you have ideas of a special way to celebrate Easter as stay-at-home resurrection people, share them with me by email (dshull@redeemerluth.com) or by my cell phone (206-275-3785). Your reality-based imaginings can help make real the life-giving Easter promise: The risen Christ looks with love at his followers and proclaims for all to hear and trust: “I am with you always, even to the close of the age.” May that promise give you strength, hope, and joy this week, and in the days and weeks to come.

Readings: Colossians 3.1-4; Psalm 118:1-2, 14-24; Matthew 28.1-10

Prayer for the Times

God, we ask that all who are affected by this virus be held in your loving care. In this time of uncertainty, help us to know what is ours to do. We know you did not cause this suffering but that you are with us in it and through it. Help us to recognize your presence in acts of kindness, in moments of silence and in the beauty of the created world. Grant peace and protection to all of humanity for their well-being and for the benefit of the earth. Amen.

Prayer of the Day

O God, you gave your only Son to suffer death on the cross for our redemption, and by his glorious resurrection you delivered us from the power of death. Make us die every day to sin, that we may live with him forever in the joy of the resurrection, through your Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.
