Coming Together and Staying Safe

Like people in faith communities around the country, you here at Redeemer have begun asking, “When might we be able to worship together again?”

It has been a long time. And for many of us, it’s felt even longer.

As Congregation Council President Margie Frazier writes in this issue of Reflections, at our teleconference yesterday, Council members began talking about what issues we need to explore and address before we could seriously consider meeting face-to-face for worship.

Of course the primary concern is safety for everyone involved. As businesses in Ohio slowly begin to open up, we will watch carefully to see the choices people make about social distancing, wearing masks, and following guidelines on the numbers of people who can gather in the same place at the same time. We will be guided by the effects this opening has on infection rates.

And we are guided by the words of this May 12 document from the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (Considerations for Returning to In-person Worship). I encourage you to read it in its entirety. In terms of the immediate question around the how’s and when’s of opening, the ELCA calls on congregations to pay close attention to “the guidance and directives of state and local authorities.” A key element in the directives from the governor and the director of health in Ohio is the prohibition against gatherings of more than 10 people. From the beginning of the pandemic, these directives from state officials have exempted communities of faith. That being said, I believe strongly public health officials know a lot more than I do about when it is safe for people to gather in good-sized groups.

So at our Council meeting yesterday, I said I could not support any proposal on re-opening public worship that allows for more people to gather in one place than public health officials say is safe, even with everyone masked, kept six feet apart, having had their temperature taken, and with all the safeguards listed in the ELCA document. I don’t want to invite you back unless I know we as the leaders of this congregation have done everything we can to provide the safety you deserve. Then you can decide whether you feel safe returning.

One of the areas that it is now clear churches must address as we consider coming back together for public worship is the role of congregational speaking and singing. As the above-mentioned ELCA document says, Singing together, even from a distance, is one of the riskiest behaviors due to the spread of aerosol and droplets that can carry the virus a significant distance and remain suspended in the air. A cloth mask is unlikely to protect you or your neighbor. Similar caution applies to unison speaking, such as reciting the Lord’s Prayer and other communal speech. Like singing, playing a wind instrument initiates a spread of aerosol and droplets and poses a strong risk of infection.

As a congregation that loves to sing – and sings really well – this is a truly sad and sobering reality about this virus. This is only one of many considerations we will have to take into account as we look ahead at “when” and “how” we begin to imagine worshipping together facemask-to-facemask.

Council will continue to monitor closely directives from state and local public health officials, and documents that come from the ELCA, like the excellent paper I’ve spoken of in this article.

The Redeemer Community

Healing Prayer While We Are Apart Together

The Healing Prayer Team is hoping to continue Healing Prayer during this time that Redeemer is meeting remotely.

If you have a prayer request, whether “healing” or otherwise, please contact the church office with your name and a good time to reach you by telephone. This wouldn’t be a specific time, but rather something like “Tuesday afternoon” or “any morning” or “Friday after 3 p.m.” We’ll contact a prayor who is available at your convenient time, and they will phone you to pray for and with you.

Send your requests to info@RedeemerLuth.com or phone 614-237-1263.

May Council Meeting Update

Council met on Sunday, May 17 via teleconference.

Giving for April was steady with general offerings totaling $27, 152. This is $1,200 greater than April 2019. We were grateful to receive over $10,000 in special gifts to the Good Samaritan Fund. Council expresses its thanks for the congregation’s commitment to the operation of our building and programs during our time physically apart.

Leaders in most every sector in the U.S. have been concerned about the effects of the pandemic on budgets, employment, and longevity. When learning about nonprofit and church organizations being eligible to receive federal Payroll Protection Program dollars, we researched the opportunity and applied. We received a federal Payroll Protection Program loan of $26,800 to be spent on payroll costs and up to 25 percent on utilities and other qualifying items. We will have careful accounting of costs and be in communication with our nonprofit lender, Illinois Facilities Fund (iff.org). Funds must be spent by early July and may be forgiven if timelines, spending and recordkeeping are met. If parts of the loan are not forgiven, the interest rate per year is 1 percent.

The major point of discussion for May’s meeting was how we and the congregation view the possibility of worshipping together again. What would it look like? What steps would we need to take to have a safe environment? Are there more interim steps we can take to provide safe and social time? Our Caring Callers will be asking members some of these questions in the coming days. Council continues to base decisions for Redeemer upon information from the Centers for Disease Control and the Ohio Department of Health for recommendations for safe gatherings. Pastor Dave’s message in this newsletter also offers more perspective and information.

Our building team, including our custodian, Marshall Edgington, has been busy buffing floors, maintaining alarms, grounds, and organizing storage rooms. Special thanks to Sue Yehling and Michele Disbro.

Garden planning and planting is in full swing. On April 23 at the first LSS/Mid-Ohio Food Collective distribution, RLC volunteers served 223 households, representing approximately 750 people. A new drive-thru delivery system was efficient and provided safety for visitors and volunteers. The next LSS/Mid-Ohio Food Collective distribution will be Thursday, May 28.

Adult Sunday Class Examining ‘Apostles’ Creed for Today ‘

We say the words every week in worship: I believe in God the Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth ...

Where do these words come from? Why does this statement of faith include what it does, but say nothing about the sacraments, and nothing about what a life of following Jesus looks like in practice? Are there ways earlier Christians might have heard these words that are lost to us now? If we affirm these words in worship, what do we believe we are saying? What are we committing ourselves to? What meanings do these words have for us?

These are the kinds of questions we’re exploring in our Sunday Faith Exploration class. The next one is Sunday, May 24 from 10-11 a.m.

Tuesday Bible Study Dives into the Apostle Paul

This Tuesday, May 19, the Bible study group here at Redeemer continues its in-depth exploration of Paul's First Letter to the Church in Corinth. In this letter, Paul addresses how communities are formed, what the role of love is in our common life, what it means to be in a body as opposed to just spiritual beings, who Jesus is, what the cross of Jesus is and does, and how to imagine the brand new world he says people are living in here and now.

In other words, a letter Paul wrote around the year 55 talks about issues that Redeemer has to face today if we are to be an active, vital body of Christ today.

If you have some free time on Tuesday afternoons from 1-2:30 p.m., join our community of exploration, honesty, laughter, and prayer. The Bible study is held via Zoom. If you'd like to join us, here's the information you'll need to connect:

COVID-19 Information

To get the most up-to-date information regarding the pandemic and Ohio's COVID-19 activities, go to the Ohio Department of Health website at <https://coronavirus.ohio.gov/wps/portal/gov/covid-19/> or call 1-833-4-ASK-ODH (1-833-427-5634).

In addition, the Southern Ohio Synod has put together a number of Ohio Department of Health (ODH), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and World Health Organization (WHO) resources online at <https://tinyurl.com/y9ohdaov>. Among the items linked to are the latest "Stay Safe Ohio" order from Gov. Mike DeWine, a checklist on face coverings and cleaning and disinfecting alternatives.

Coming Together and Staying Safe cont'd from p. 1

We also want to offer ways for us to gather safely in small groups so we can see and talk with each other in person. To that end, I'd like to see who among you would be interested in bringing a folding chair and your own meal to the church and sitting in a circle on the lawn with no more than a total of 10 people to share an hour together. Those who came will have to have facemasks and wear them while we're gathering and after each person has finished eating. If the weather is poor we will gather in a room inside large enough for safe distancing.

The first two dates I'd like to suggest are for brownbag lunches from 12-1 pm on Wednesday, June 3, and Sunday, June 7. Each date will close after nine people RSVP.

We miss being together. We want all of this to end. And we need to be smart and safe. Which means being patient, and being creative about how to find ways we can meet together in small groups until the experts tell us it's ok to consider gathering in larger groups.

We are stewards of each other. And all of us want to do this right. This congregation is blessed with a council whose members take this seriously. I couldn't be more grateful to be in leadership with them.

My love and prayers are with you all.

Dave Shull

The Community Beyond

ODA Starts New Program to Keep in Touch with Seniors

To help ensure that older Ohioans stay connected while staying at home, Ohio Department of Aging (ODA) Director Ursel McElroy recently announced a new service to provide a daily check-in by phone for Ohioans age 60 or older.

The “Staying Connected” program will call older adults who sign up for the service during a predetermined window of time. When participants answer the phone, they will be asked to respond via touch-tone to confirm that they are OK or to access live support.

If no one answers after three attempts, a call is then made to an alternate contact (if provided) or to non-emergency services.

“Staying Connected” can be cancelled at any time.

“Especially during this very challenging time, we encourage older Ohioans to sign up for the Ohio Department of Aging’s Staying Connected phone program. This program will help reduce isolation and support the health and well-being of older adults in our state,” said Robert Cornwell, executive director of the Buckeye State Sheriff’s Association.

Eligible Ohioans can sign up at www.aging.ohio.gov or by calling 1-800-266-4346.

“Staying Connected” is not an emergency response service and participants should always use 9-1-1 or their emergency response system if they are injured or in need of emergency assistance.

ODJFS Announces Unemployment Expansion through CARES Act

The Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (ODJFS) announced Wednesday the rollout of Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA), a federally funded program stemming from the CARES Act that will expand unemployment benefits to individuals affected by COVID-19, including those who have been diagnosed with the disease and family caregivers.

Others who can receive PUA but cannot receive traditional unemployment benefits include self-employed individuals, 1099 tax filers and part-time workers. In addition, parents of children who cannot go to school because of COVID-19 can receive PUA. There is no minimum income requirement.

"The benefit amount will be similar to traditional unemployment benefits plus an additional $600 per week," according to ODJFS. The additional $600 per week will be available from March 29, 2020 through July 25, 2020.

The benefits will last for up to 39 weeks, but not past Dec. 26, 2020, and are retroactive until the earliest date someone is eligible, as early as Feb. 2, 2020.

Funding for PUA was provided through the federal coronavirus response package, the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act.

ODJFS Director Kimberly Hall said in a news release, "We appreciate everyone's patience as we diligently worked to build this new system in record time for the agency. We encourage anyone who believes they may be eligible to apply. Even after you return to work, you still may be eligible to receive retroactive benefits, dating from as early as Feb. 2."

According to the department, more than 1 million unemployment claims have been filed in the past seven weeks, more than the previous three years combined.

Someone can receive PUA if they are in one of the following situations:

- The individual has been diagnosed with COVID-19, or is experiencing symptoms and is seeking medical diagnosis.
- A member of the individual's household has been diagnosed with COVID-19.
- The individual is providing care for a family member or member of the household who has been diagnosed with COVID-19.
- A child or other person in the household for which the individual has primary caregiving responsibility is unable to attend school or another facility is closed as a direct result of the COVID-19 emergency, and the school or care is required for the individual to work.

- The individual is unable to reach the place of employment because of a quarantine imposed as a direct result of the COVID-19 public health emergency.
- The individual is unable to reach the place of employment because a health care professional has advised him or her to self-quarantine due to COVID-19 concerns.
- The individual was scheduled to commence employment and does not have a job or is unable to reach the job as a direct result of COVID-19.
- The individual has become the breadwinner or major support for a household because the head of the household has died as a direct result of COVID-19.
- The individual has quit his/her job as a direct result of COVID-19.
- The individual's place of employment is closed as a direct result of COVID-19.

More information about the program is available online at <https://unemploymenthelp.ohio.gov/expandedeligibility/>.

A Pandemic Prayer for Children and People Everywhere

By Marian Wright Edelman, Founder and President Emerita of the Children's Defense Fund

Hear the cries of all Your children young and old everywhere during this scary pandemic
Who are threatened and ravaged by a virus we cannot full discern or know how to stop with confidence
Who still daily face violence, poverty, racism, abuse and neglect
Are scared, profiled, arrested and imprisoned by those in authority
Ignored by those with power as they languish in crumbling schools and neighborhoods all over our nation and world
Labeled often by some entrusted with their education as dumb, disruptive and failures
Marginalized by those who vote and are elected because they cannot vote or make campaign contributions
Resented by some of those forced to care for them in too often inhumane child welfare and juvenile justice and adult criminal justice systems
Hear our cries for our children all powerful God, by all the names we call You, especially during this dangerous pandemic

Protect their bodies and fight their battles during this dangerous threat we don't yet know how to fully stop
And protect them too from the violence of drugs and guns and poverty
Open the Red Sea to their safety and future in this time of unprecedented threat
Send them Your manna in the pandemic wilderness
And lead us and our children throughout the world into a safe future.

Prayer of the Day

O God of glory, your Son Jesus Christ suffered for us and ascended to your right hand. Unite us with Christ and each other in suffering and in joy, that all the world may be drawn into your bountiful presence, through Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.. Amen.
