A Prayer Practice That Opens Us to the Rest Jesus Offers

My reflection yesterday focused on Jesus' invitation from Matthew 11: "Come to me, all you who are struggling hard and carrying heavy loads, and I will give you rest. Put on my yoke, and learn from me. I'm gentle and humble. And you will find rest for yourselves."

I suggested that in these two promises of rest, Jesus isn't inviting us to take a vacation or extended naps (although there's nothing wrong with either!). Instead, because he says put on my yoke and learn from me, I think he's talking about changing how we live. I think he's asking us to look at his stories, words, and actions, and see how he was trying to show us how to live a life at rest. He invited us to free ourselves from anxiety, fear, feeling like we have to carry our burdens alone, and the need to impress others or prove anything to anyone. He invited us to live in peace, at rest from all that crushes joy. He told us that the beloved community God dreams of is in your midst. So don't waste your energy regretting or resenting things about the past, or being anxious about a future we can't control. Instead, look at the lilies and listen to the birds, smell the air and see the people who are right in front of you right now. Right now is all that matters. And trust that you have what you need to face the demands of this moment, particularly because you are yoked to others who carry your burdens with you – and, if you're really struggling, even for you.

This is a very different way to live than a lot of us are used to, this life at rest. Many of us instead find our lives filled with anxiety, fear, and regret. We feel overwhelmed by all the responsibilities we feel like we carry by ourselves. It's hard to focus on right now, and trust others are there to support us and we can make it through.

In my reflection, I talked about my friend John Florian, a hospice chaplain and spiritual director. John has a daily prayer practice in which he speaks the following words. He knows he can only walk alongside those he serves in meaningful ways if he reminds himself what a life at-peace and at-rest looks and feels like. I shared his prayer and invited those in worship to experience this prayer as I spoke it. I promised to share it with you in case you might like to use any or all of it as a way to practice living the kind of rest Jesus invites us to make real.

In the stillness of this grace-filled moment, I smile.
"Oh wondrous creature, by what strange miracle do you so often not smile?"
(Hafiz)

I smile, knowing I already have everything I need.
I have enough.

The Redeemer Community

Some Ways to Connect at Redeemer this Summer

The following highlights a number of ways that folks can be involved here at Redeemer over the summer:

Wednesday evenings in July, 7-8:30 p.m.: Redeemer Summer Book Study explores the realities of experiences on the Mexico-U.S. border. There's an article about our summer book, The Line Becomes a River, elsewhere in this issue. These discussions are safe spaces to explore topics about which those who gather bring a wide variety of perspectives which have no easy resolutions ... and about which you might not have conversation partners to talk.

Ongoing on Saturdays: At 9 a.m., Redeemer gives away the produce from the garden. (Harvesting begins at 8:30 a.m.) Volunteers are needed to help for a couple of hours each week. Contact Jon Disbro at 614-832-2639 with questions.

Ongoing Sundays: Readers are needed for the Sunday services throughout the summer. A sign-up sheet can be found on the bulletin board next to the Library. Readings are sent out the week ahead of the service. Readers of all ages are welcome to participate in this ministry. Readers are still needed for July 23 and 30. Also adults are invited to join the adult education sessions following worship at 11:15 a.m. in Classroom 2. This is both in-person and on Zoom. Also make sure to stop by the latest installment of art in the Narthex to see members' vision of what the theme "Love in Any Language" means to them. Time is running out to see this month's edition. It will be changed out for a new theme beginning Sunday, Aug. 6.

Summer Book Study on Mexican/U.S. Border Continues

Every July, Redeemer spends four Wednesday evenings together discussing a book on an issue that comes out of the day's headlines. Having this amount of time means the discussions on the book are not rushed nor are the conversations short-circuited. Spending four weeks on the book invites a deep dive into a topic that is controversial and complex. And it creates a space where folks can share their opinions and questions while listening to people who likely will have some different ideas and experiences. This July book group offers a rich opportunity to live into Redeemer's mission of fostering understanding and healing in community.

This July, the group will read and discuss The Line Becomes a River by Francisco Cantú. Cantú is a Mexican-American who worked for the U.S. Border Patrol on the Mexican border from 2008-2012. Writing about this book, author Sandra Cisneros says, "There is a line dividing what we know and do not know. Some see the world from one shore and some from the other. Cantú brings the two together to a spiritual whole. My gratitude for this work of the soul."

There are a lot of copies in the public library for those who don't want to buy a copy. Please lend your voice and ears to the discussions Wednesday evenings in July through Wednesday, July 26 from 7-8:30 p.m. Folks are asked to read Part 2 for the Wednesday, July 12 session.

And invite your friends! Having non-Redeemer people joining us makes our conversations that much richer.

July 14 Deadline for Orders for New RLC T-Shirts

Friday, July 14 is the deadline to order Redeemer's new T-shirt online. The circular design was selected and shirts are available in a variety of styles and colors. (See attached form for more information and for the link to order.) With tax and card fees, the shirts are $22.42 for regular sizing. All orders will be done online. Those not comfortable with online transactions should see either Krista Skipper or Michele Disbro.

Sharing the Peace Returns to Pre-COVID Practice

Council and the Worship Team have heard from many members that they are ready to greet each other up close during the passing of the peace-as was the practice before the COVID pandemic. So, beginning on Sunday July 16, members are encouraged to move around the sanctuary to greet each other with a hearty handshake or a hug.

For those who have special concerns or who are not ready for close contact, please continue to use the namaste sign as a way to let others know you are more comfortable greeting them from a distance. The congregation will continue to take a moment to greet those who are worshiping via livestream before greeting those in the sanctuary.

If folks have any questions or comments, please see Pastor Dave, or any member of the Worship Team. "Looking forward to greeting you," Jennifer Young says.

Jennie Telfer to Lead Adult Education Class Sunday

Jennie Telfer will lead the Adult Education Class on Sunday, July 16 to talk about her peace work in North Korea and other places. She is a friend of Larry Trover's, who wrote, "I've known Jennie for three years as we meet weekly on Zoom with the Peace Posse, an international nonviolence study group of peace workers, teachers and pastors. Originally part of a larger online introduction to Engaging Nonviolence by Pace e Bene, seven of us continue discussing books, practicing nonviolence and sharing beloved community each Wednesday afternoon. I gladly support Jennie's work in Korea and hope you will be able to attend her presentation at Redeemer."

The class begins about 11:15 a.m. in Classroom 2. The class is both in-person and on Zoom at the following link: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/85132061190?pwd=L1VsUE91c1FodlN5dThTUDNRK3dLQT09>. Meeting ID: 851 3206 1190; Passcode: 919341; phone only: 1-312 626 6799.

New Artwork Theme Announced

Emily Kent announced Sunday that the new theme for the exhibit of members' artwork in the Narthex is "the ordinary is extraordinary," recognizing that the church is in the "ordinary season."

Items should be brought in over the next couple of weeks with the new exhibit to be up by the first Sunday in August.

Journaling Workshop Coming This Fall

Saturday, October 14 from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., Mark Katrick will facilitate a journaling workshop here at Redeemer. Mark is a semi-retired UCC pastor and a spiritual guide. The theme of the workshop will be "Blessing". Come. Write. Share. Watch Reflections for further information. Contact Rich Pautsch with questions.

Fans, Fans, and More Fans!

Sister Act has now collected 112 fans to offer families who may need them at Redeemer's July LSS/MidOhio Food Giveaway. To that end, Sister Act will continue collecting box fans until Thursday, July 20.

Julie Johnson reports that enough funds have been collected to cover the cost of the fans she purchased. The dream goal is to have 150 fans (equal to the number of households served at the June food giveaway). Folks are encouraged to continue donating to cover the fan costs or to bring in a box fan or two to add to the supply. However, the deadline for monetary contributions for the fans is Sunday, July 16.

Fans, fans, and more fans!

Volunteers for Sunday Refreshments Needed

Volunteers to set-up refreshments Sundays after worship are needed. Open slots are July 16 and 30 and August 20. It need not be elaborate. Coffee is stocked and just needs to be made. Cookies, too, are in the kitchen off the Narthex and just need to be put out. To volunteer, sign up on the sheet on the bulletin board next to the Library.

Volunteers Needed for July 20 Food Giveaway

Thursday, July 20 is Redeemer's next food giveaway and volunteers are needed! Set up begins at 1 p.m. with the giveaway itself beginning at 3 p.m. It runs until 5:30 p.m. To volunteers, sign up on the sheet on the bulletin board next to the Library.

The special items this month include school supplies and tissues – in addition to the fans. (See separate story, this issue.

BREAD Issues Roadmap Report: Come Together ... Close the Gap!

Kristi Hildebrand reports that BREAD has a roadmap of issues that they are actively working on. The current roadmap includes:

- Stop Violence! Build Trust! (Violence)
- Don't Ignore! Restore! (Juvenile Justice)
- Trees protect us! We protect trees! (Environment)
- Families first! Housing now! (Affordable housing)
- ID equals...opportunity (Municipal ID)
- Come together...Close the Gap! (Elder Care)

Each issue has a steering committee and research team that is actively working all year on finding solutions that have worked other places or working with Columbus and Franklin County leaders to implement them.

Continuing this series, we will do a deeper dive on the next issue, “Come together...close the gap!”

In 2019, BREAD’s Elder Care Committee had just highlighted the negative health effects for older adults who were isolated in their homes, completely unaware that isolation was about to become a part of all of our day-to-day lives. We are still healing from those effects and learning just how damaging COVID-19 was and still is for individuals as well as for our overall life expectancy. Before the pandemic, they were shocked to find out that in Franklin County, life expectancy could be determined by zip code -- meaning that in certain neighborhoods people were dying 27 YEARS earlier than in others. The committee needed to find the root causes for this gap if they were going to change it!

Franklin County Health Commissioner Joe Mazzola agreed to work with BREAD on a Life Expectancy Task Force and they have made and continue to make progress! Mazzola sent his regrets that he could not attend the recent Nehemiah Action, but he thanked BREAD for their engagement with other stakeholders across the county as they helped shape HealthMap 2022 which is the latest community health assessment. This tool can now be used to draw more attention to these disparities and zero in on four health priorities that rose to the top. One of these priority areas highlights how access to basic needs like affordable housing, education, and health care are all social determinants of health. Luckily, BREAD is already pushing for solutions to many of these issues so when they win justice, they are literally saving lives!

Franklin County Public Health is working closely with Columbus Public Health and the four hospitals to identify common metrics as part of their health improvement strategies. It’s anticipated a new Community Health Improvement Plan will be completed in Summer 2023 so stay tuned for how to turn that plan into action to restore our community.

While their long-term goal was to learn about the overarching problems leading to the gap, BREAD also pushed for an immediate solution to help people in zip codes with the lowest life expectancy. They had to somehow get services to older adults who were most in need, many of whom make frequent calls to 911, sometimes for very preventable things. The group learned about a pilot program where paramedics and social workers from the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging team up to visit those callers and connect them to services. SPARC or “Specialized Program Assessing Resource Connectivity” was doing amazing work: the only problem was that they only had one social worker at the time. So BREAD highlighted the need and since the 2019 Action, the Columbus Fire Department’s SPARC team has grown and has helped over 4,700 people!

Columbus Fire estimates the program has helped reduce calls to 911 by more than 10,000! By freeing up paramedics for other emergencies, we are ensuring that factors like the ones outlined in the health assessment can lead to better outcomes. “We are happy to celebrate these steps toward closing the gap and will continue pushing so that EVERYONE regardless of their zip code gets the care they deserve!”

As a reminder, there are always envelopes on the table at the rear of the sanctuary that folks can use to make an investment in BREAD and support their justice work.

RLC Summer Basketball Camp Underway

Redeemer’s summer basketball camp, led by former NBA and ABA player Coach Larry Jones, is now underway. Participants can still register by calling 614-237-1263.

Redeemer provides this camp for free to youth ages 8 to 14. The camp runs six weeks, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday. It concludes on Thursday, July 20.

Redeemer Safe Church Team Highlights Safety Tips: Severe Weather

If you are in the church building or on the grounds, help all who are present to move safely to the basement and away from any windows or doors. Monitor weather reports as able and do not leave the basement until it is declared safe to do so by broadcasters or first responders.

What should you know about lightning?

To keep your members and staff safe, your leadership team should be aware of the following tips.

- Thunder can be heard up to 25 miles from the original lightning storm.
- Assume that if you can hear thunder, you can be struck by lightning.
- Thunder and lightning should serve as a final warning to immediately seek shelter indoors or in a vehicle — NOT under a tree.
- Wait 30 minutes after the storm to resume outdoor activities.
- Remember, “When thunder roars, go indoors!”

How can you protect against hail damage?

Hail is produced in strong and severe storms across the country, especially in the High Plains.

- Hail one inch (quarter size) or larger is most likely to cause damage. Roofs, windows, siding, air conditioning units and vehicles are most commonly damaged by hail.
- Look for roofing products that boast a “Class 4” rating or advertise impact resistance.
- Install protective coverings over windows to prevent cracks and shattering and over air conditioning units with exposed fins to prevent denting.

What about wind damage and tornadoes?

Wind from convective storms comes in two main forms:

1. Straight-line wind: Strong, damaging winds that can reach up to 100 mph -- these winds account for one-half of all severe weather reports.
2. Tornado: A narrow, rotational wind extending from the base of a thunderstorm to the ground. Winds resulting from convective storms can cause catastrophic damage to buildings and lead to serious injury or death.
 - Not all tornadoes have advance warnings, and straight-line winds can be just as dangerous as a tornado.
 - All thunderstorms should be treated with respect, and people should seek shelter in the lowest level of a sturdy building whenever a strong storm approaches.
 - Pay attention to local weather updates and have a plan to shelter in place in the event of a severe storm.
 - Before a storm hits, if you have time to do so safely, secure loose items, such as lawn furniture or other items that may become airborne during high winds and cause damage.

Tuesday Bible Study Now on Summer Hiatus

The Tuesday Bible is now on a summer hiatus. It will resume in the fall after Labor Day, on Tuesday, Sept. 5.

Noisy Offering Now Goes to Star House

Starting in July, Redeemer’s “Noisy Offering” will now go to Star House -- a drop-in center for youth experiencing homelessness and the only housing village of its kind in Central Ohio for college-age youth who are exiting homelessness. Young people experiencing homelessness, ages 14-24, are provided a safe location along with basic needs and access to crucial, stabilizing resources.

In addition, Star House, along with the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority and Finance Fund, jointly owns and operates Carol Stewart Village, an affordable neighborhood for youth coming out of homelessness. It has 62 studio apartments and onsite access to a wide array of programs and social services.

I smile, knowing I can be an instrument of Your compassion, exactly as I am.

I am enough. My presence is enough.

I am grateful to everyone who has encouraged me, loved me, reminded me who I am.

And upon this foundation of support, I hold in my heart those in need of my care.

I give thanks for my life – all of it.

I give thanks for this new day:
another chance to wake up, another chance to be kind.

I give thanks for this present moment.

Open up my mind, heart, and spirit to moments of grace.

And may the next words I speak offer only joy, confidence, and hope.

Please let me know your responses to this prayer, and whether you begin to use some form of it as part of your own prayer practice. This truly is a very different way to live than most of us are accustomed to. It takes a lot of practice to try to resist what most of us have learned, and open ourselves truly to living at-rest and at-peace.

Publishing Deadlines for Reflections, Sunday Bulletins

For Reflections

- PLEASE SUBMIT PRIOR TO 5 P.M. ON SUNDAYS.
- Send to info@RedeemerLuth.com and put Reflections in subject line.
- Or leave a note in the Reflections mailbox at the top of the stairs outside the church office.

For Sunday Bulletins

The deadline for information to be published in Sunday bulletins is the Wednesday morning before. That information can be sent to the above email: just put "Bulletin" in the subject line.

Prayers and Personals

Prayers for comfort and healing are asked for Pastor Al Debelak who is undergoing extensive medical tests and treatment and for Pastor Keith Wolter, a friend of April Smith's, whose sister Paula died. Prayers continue to be asked for Wayne and Charlotte Frank, parents of Kelley Frank. (See story below.)

TODAY Is Deadline to Register to Vote for August Special Election

The deadline to register to vote in the Tuesday, Aug.8 special election is TODAY Monday, July 10. This special election is asking voters to vote on Issue 1, which will change the way amendments to Ohio's Constitution are approved, making it harder.

Not registered? Go online to the Ohio Secretary of State website at <https://olvr.ohiosos.gov/> and register there. To register, folks will need to provide the following:

- An Ohio driver's license or Ohio identification card number.
- Name
- Date of Birth
- Address
- Last four digits of your Social Security number.

If you do not have any portion of the required information, follow this link to register to vote or to update your voting address using secretary of state's paper form (PDF): <https://tinyurl.com/5ce8vpbh>. Once this form is completed, it must be signed and sent it to your county board of elections. Addresses of county boards can be found here: <https://tinyurl.com/w57jdmbs>. Mailed forms must be postmarked by the July 10 deadline.

Register and then have a plan to have your voice count for this election!

Having Items Shipped to Redeemer?

While Redeemer is happy that some folks have been ordering supplies for food giveaways to be delivered directly to the church, it would be helpful to let the church office know to expect packages, including a tracking number if possible. Because the office is only staffed part-time, deliveries can be problematic. If staff knows when to expect something, arrangements can be made to have someone on hand to receive the delivery.

Pastor Vacationing July 16-July 23

Dave Shull will be on vacation from Sunday afternoon, July 16, through Sunday, July 23. If you have an emergency pastoral care need during that time, please contact Pastor Julianne Smeck at 734-972-6126 or if the need happens on Sunday, July 23, please contact Pastor Dan Hille at 614-832-2461.

Rev. Shari Ayers, a member of Redeemer, will preach and preside on July 23.

Update from Kelley Frank

Kelley Frank writes, "Thank you for the continued thoughts and prayers for my parents, Wayne and Charlotte Frank. I thought I'd share some updates.

"It is a huge relief that Dad did not need surgery for his C1 neck vertebrae fracture. He will continue to need a neck collar for four to six weeks as his neck heals on its own. My parent's farmhouse is not safe nor accessible for him to return home while healing. After almost a week at Grant, he was transferred to Country Club Rehabilitation Campus in Mount Vernon last Thursday evening, June 29 for therapies and care during this healing period. He is still orienting to this new place and confused at times. Transition continues.

"Meanwhile, the exhaustion and stress has impacted my mom big time. Yesterday, Saturday, July 1, she fainted and fell from a chair at home. We were able to get her to the Knox Community Hospital ER for tests, etc. While nothing is broken, they discovered clots in her lungs and are checking clots in her legs. She has been admitted, at least for a couple of days. Uncertainty continues.

"Watching my parents decline and being the closest child on call is taking its own toll on me and Trina, while still trying to work and take care of our own responsibilities. I know many of you have been there, done that. I am extremely grateful for my brother and sister-in-law's help last week while they were staying with us (previously planned). My brother will return next week. And we are surrounded by love and support from extended family and friends during this very chaotic and stressful time, which is a blessing."

'Christ in Our Home' Available

The July-September 2023 edition of "Christ in Our Home" is now available in the Narthex for anyone who would like a copy. Feel free to take an extra copy to share with family or friends. Or contact Becky Trover in the church office to request a copy be mailed to your home. Reach her at 614-237-1263 or via email at info@redeemerluth.com

Thrive! Pledges Now Exceed $35,000

Julie Johnson reports for the Thrive! Team that Redeemer's pledges for the campaign of the Southern Ohio Synod have now reached $35,020 – well in excess of the $20,000 goal set by Church Council. Members should have received a letter thanking them if they pledged for this campaign. While the letter said a copy of the pledge was included, it was discovered that many of those pledging had already detached the pink portion. "If you did not receive that with your letter, we assume that you detached it at the time of your pledge," Julie explained. "Apologies for the confusion!" Thanks to everyone who has pledged from the Thrive! Team of Wendy Stoica, Margie Frazier, Dave Shull and Julie.
